

NANCY WYNNE CHATS ABOUT THE ABINGTON HOSPITAL FETE

Ogontz School Grounds Will Be Thrown Open to the Public for a Large Bazaar and Hawaiian Affair Given to Benefit Abington Memorial Hospital

NOT one of the least interesting parts of the out-of-door fete, to be given at the Ogontz School grounds, in aid of the Abington Memorial Hospital, will follow the supper and dance which will follow the all-day affair, and which the fair sponsors hope to make a decided social event.

One of the most interesting booths will be the Hawaiian one, at which there will be Hawaiian music, Hawaiian cookery and Hawaiian scenery; the scenery to be furnished largely by the costumes of the sides, who will be real true copies of the Hawaiian women.

Among the prominent women who will help Mrs. Lorimer are Mrs. T. I. Crane, Mrs. Frederick English, Mrs. Harry C. Thayer, Mrs. Carl Harriman, Mrs. John Morton, Mrs. Joseph M. Gazzam, Miss Olivia M. deB. Gazzam, Miss A. A. Sutherland, Mrs. J. Bancker Gribbel, Mrs. John Gribbel, Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Cartia, Mrs. Philip S. Collins, Miss Idella Gribbel, Mrs. Howard Longstreth, Mrs. Alan Reed, Mrs. David Reisman and the students of Ogontz School.

The different departmental chairmen—who will have charge of a booth or amusement, or sales section, and who will each have from a few to a score of girls and matrons as aides—are:

Mrs. Daniel B. Wentz, Mrs. Charles E. Schwartz, Miss Emma Hett, Mrs. J. Howard Ervian, Mrs. Wharton Sinker, Mrs. W. Howard Wilson, Mrs. C. A. Walter, Mrs. Marmaduke Tilden, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Robinson, Mrs. George H. Kelly, Mrs. Penrose Robinson and Mrs. Herbert K. Taylor.

Those of us who attempted to hear "Aida" last night know what a time we all had to get our seats. Never did I see such a very unmanageable crowd. After the second act most of the spectators left in disgust, and yet the performance as a performance was well given, though the boat did hitch a bit going across the river and "Camden" sky line was to be found on the western side of Philadelphia instead of the eastern, for I heard one gay young society thing murmur to her adoring suitor, "It looks for all the world like Camden," which made the surrounding onlookers snicker.

After the first act the spectators made a sudden attack on space, and taking their chairs with them, charged forward in spite of protests, until in the darkness the audience on the ground looked like many fleas on a bypaper, instead of the first idea it gave, which was, row upon row of well-cultivated best tops. No offense meant I assure you. To be sure, very few persons reached the seats they had paid for, and no one cared but the poor victims themselves. However, the small boys who were helping the peanut vendors enjoyed themselves immensely, and when Aida was singing soulfully after Amneris had left her, one small boy called to the other, "There's Aida out there a yellin' now." It's all in the point of view, you know!

Another interesting affair which will be given for charity will be the lawn party to be held on the grounds of the Germantown Academy, at School House lane and Greene street, on Friday. This time it will be the Germantown Hospital that will benefit. Among the girls who will act as aides at this fair will be Marion Huston, Marjory Taylor, Peggy Perot, Margaret Davis, Martyn George, Betty Gilliam, Miss Christine Rehn, Edith Reeves, Josephine Reeves, Miss Lydia Shipley, Helen Moore, Lucia Warden, Elizabeth Wister, Florine Pearson, Mildred Longstreth, Isabel Stoughton, Anna Strawbridge, Sarah Erdman, Martha Shoemaker, Eleanor Vander, Marguerite Burton, Elizabeth Van Dusen, Nancy Smyth and Sidney Belville.
